This letter is to inform you, herein the Taxpayer, of the services Northwest Tax Associates (NTA) will provide you, and the responsibilities you have in preparation of your tax return.

Tax Return Preparation. NTA will prepare your 2023 federal and state tax returns based upon information you provide. Services for preparation of your return do not include auditing, examination, or verification or correction and revision of information provided by you.

- In the event your return is audited, you will be responsible for verifying the items reported.
- The tax return preparation fee does not include bookkeeping services.
- Fees charged for tax return preparation do not include audit representation or the preparation and review of materials to respond to inquiries or correspondence from taxing authorities
- Assisting you with your compliance with the Corporate Transparency Act, including beneficial ownership information reporting, is not within the scope of this engagement.
- Preparation fees do cover limited assistance and consultation, not to exceed one half hour during the year in which your return is prepared.
- The engagement to prepare your 2023 tax returns terminates upon delivery of your completed returns and original documents to you. NTA recommends that you store your supporting documentation and copies of your tax returns in a secure place for at least seven years. You may be assessed a fee if you request copies from us in the future. NTA is not required to keep copies of your records for more than three years from the date they are completed.

Taxpayer Responsibilities.

- You, the Taxpayer, agree to timely provide us with accurate income and tax-deductible expense information and related documentation. If you receive additional or revised information after NTA begins working on your return, you are required to contact us immediately and provide us with such additional or revised documentation to ensure your completed tax returns contain accurate, current and relevant information.
- You represent and warrant that all expenses or other deduction amounts are accurate and that you have all required supporting written records. In some cases, NTA will ask to review such documentation.
- You must be able to provide all written records of all items and information included on your return in the event you are audited by either the IRS or state or local tax authorities.
- You are required review the return carefully before signing to make sure that all information contained on your return is current and correct.
- Fees must be paid before your tax return is delivered to you or filed for you. If you terminate this engagement before completion, you agree to pay a fee for work completed. A retainer is required for preparation of materially substantial or delinquent returns.

Privacy Policy. The nature of our work requires us to collect certain nonpublic, personal information about you from various sources. NTA collects financial and personal information from applications, worksheets, reporting financial statements, and other documents, data and forms, as well as interviews and conversations with our clients and affiliates. NTA may also review banking and credit information about our clients in the performance of our duties and the payment therefor. All such information NTA obtains about you will be provided by you or obtained with your permission.

Our firm has procedures and policies in place to protect your confidential information. NTA restricts access to your confidential information to those within our firm and involved affiliates who have a reasonable need to know in order to provide you with services. NTA will not disclose your personal information to any third party without your express permission, except where required by law. NTA maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards in compliance with state and federal regulations that protect your personal information from unauthorized access. Please contact us with any questions regarding our privacy policy.
